Granted Marriage License.
John Chambers of Evansburg and Florence Dunsinger of Conneltsville, both of Dunbar were granted marriage licenses in Uniontown yesterday.

Conference Celebrates Anniversary.
In honor of the seventy-fifth anniversary of the organization of the Allegheny conference of the United Brethren Church in session in Greensburg a camp fire and banquet was held last evening. Most of the time yesterday was taken up by the discussion of church finances. The first general conference was held in Mount Pleasant in 1815. The most important business to be brought before the conference is the question of the union with the Methodist Protestant denomination. The various conferences all over the country are taking it up and holding it to a vote and that is what will probably be done at the conference in Greensburg after a discussion today.

Scottish Wedding.
The marriage of Miss Hattie McIntosh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. McIntosh of Scottsboro, and George Horlick, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Horlick, was solemnized Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride on Mulberry street. Rev. Dr. W. C. Fink of Dayton, O., officiating. The bride wore a gown of shadow lace and a corsage bouquet of bride's roses. Following a wedding dinner Mr. and Mrs. Horlick left for an Eastern trip. On their return they will be at home in Greensburg after a discussion today.

Banquet Plans Nearly Completed.
Nearly all arrangements have been completed for the annual reunion of the Fayette County Veterans Association to be held next Thursday in Uniontown. A feature of the reunion this year will be the assembling of a large band all made up of drummers, fifers, musicians, etc., among the veterans who have been in the service during the term of service. All veterans who have been in any way connected with a band in the service are urged to meet at the Municipal Hall in Uniontown Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, at which time the band will be organized.

Miss Elizabeth's Shower.
Miss Elizabeth's shower, formerly Miss Nellie Penn, was tendered a miscellaneous shower last evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. Penn, on Eighth street, Greensburg, by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Methodist Protestant Church. Many members attended and presented Mrs. Penn with a number of gifts and useful articles. On Wednesday evening Mr. Minard was tendered a farewell party and supper by a class of 20 young men of the Presbyterian Sunday school in Uniontown. Mr. and Mrs. Minard left this afternoon for Altoona and from there will go to Philadelphia, where Mr. Minard will take a course in medicine at the University of Pennsylvania.

McIntosh's Union.
Miss Elizabeth's shower, formerly Miss Nellie Penn, was tendered a miscellaneous shower last evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. Penn, on Eighth street, Greensburg, by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Methodist Protestant Church. Many members attended and presented Mrs. Penn with a number of gifts and useful articles. Mission Guild to Meet.
The Young Ladies' Mission Guild of the Trinity Episcopal Church will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. M. Rhodes on Sixth street, West Side.

Sunday School Class to Meet.
The W. S. Hickman Bible class of the First Baptist Church will meet this evening at the home of Mrs. H. C. Humbert on Fayette street. All members are invited.

Bible Class Meets.
The W. S. Hickman Bible class of the Methodist Protestant Sunday School held its regular meeting last evening at the home of Lindley Newsome in the West Side. Fifteen members were present. Following the business meeting was a dainty luncheon.

Miscellaneous Meeting.
Business of a routine nature was transacted at the regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Methodist Protestant Church held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. S. B. Marston on the South Side. Luncheon was served.

Evening at Family Work.
The West Side Needleworkers were entertained last evening by Mrs. E. H. McNeer at her home on Tenth street, West Side. Twenty members and following guests: Mrs. Charles Holmes, Mrs. Charles Fletcher and Miss (Mrs. H. H. of Scottsboro, Mrs. George F. Hart, Mrs. C. A. of Uniontown, and Mrs. Earl Porter, Cumberland, attended. A color scheme of yellow and white was charmingly carried out.

Delightful Surprise Party.
The residence of Mrs. Henry Martin on Ninth street, Greensburg, was the scene of a delightful surprise party and miscellaneous shower given last evening for Mr. and Mrs. Cole, whose marriage was a recent event. Mrs. Cole was formerly Miss Elizabeth Rowan of Mill Run. Mr. Cole is a well known motorman. The evening was spent at various games and luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Cole have gone to housekeeping on Twelfth street, West Side.

Figuring Interest.
When money is used for ordinary business purposes, you cannot figure accurately on the income. When it is deposited in an interest bearing account with this bank, you can figure to a cent what your money will earn during a definite period. It is worth while to know exactly what your income will be. The Citizens National Bank of Conneltsville, 135 Pittsburg street, invites interest bearing accounts in any amount.—Adv.

Robert Gaston Love.
Robert Gaston Love, 75 years old, died yesterday morning at his home in Mount Pleasant. Funeral tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence.

Taking Stock.
Gretwald & Hickey, the stationers, are taking stock today and the store will be closed. Watch for the bargains at reopening.—Adv.

It is one thing to make soda crackers that are occasionally good.

It is quite another thing to make them so that they are always better than all other soda crackers, always of unvarying goodness.

The name "Uneeda" stamped on every biscuit—means that if a million packages of Uneeda Biscuit were placed before you, you could choose any one of them, confident that every soda cracker in that package would be as good as the best Uneeda Biscuit ever baked. Five cents.

LUMINOUS FISH.

In the Matter of Light They Bent the Modern Auto.

By United Press.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Sept. 19.—A new species of fish, having the appearance of an electrically lighted ferry boat, has been secured in the Great Australian Bight at a depth of 350 fathoms. This curious fish, which has 53 brilliant light organs on either side of its body, which itself shines like a mirror, has been named the "Lodger." It was hauled up by the trawler Endeavour, and has been placed in the museum here.

More than 100 other new varieties were obtained. All the specimens including these submarine depths are more or less luminous.

MORE PETTY THEFTS.

York and Highland Residents Missing Quantities of Provisions.

Reports of petty thefts on York and Highland avenues continue to be heard on the streets though no complaints have been made to the police. This morning it was said that one resident had discovered the loss of almost a barrel of potatoes and other provisions.

The reports have caused the male residents whose houses so far have not been touched to haul up their guns and prepare to make it warm for the intruders if they happen around. One man has set a large game trap in his yard, and was telling the fellow that gets caught in it, he says.

Attended Church Anniversary.
Principal E. H. Smith of the high school, attended the evening session of the 125th anniversary services of Bethlehem Church, his former home, at Belvidere, yesterday, returning this morning, accompanied by his wife and children who were present at all three sessions.

American Refugee Home.
NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Sixteen American refugees arrived here today from Frontera, Mexico on the steamship Siboria, declaring that they had been sent out of the country by the United States consul acting under instructions from the State Department.

Mrs. Jackson's Funeral.
The funeral of Mrs. L. H. Jackson took place this afternoon from the home of her daughter, Mrs. James McElmish in Greensburg. Following the services a special street car left for Scottsboro, where the interment was made.

GOOD PLAY HERE TONIGHT

"Within the Law" Will Appear at the Solson Theatre.

"Within the Law" will appear at the Solson Theatre this evening. This is one of the big New York successes of last season, and the original company is still running on Broadway. "Within the Law" is one of those so-called "serious plays," and probably the best, that are the rage at this time.

The story is pretty generally known, and it is said that all of the companies—there are four of them—maintain the high standard of excellence that has won for the play a remarkable success, financially and otherwise.

The appearance of "Within the Law" is among the first of the many good dramatic productions which are promised for the present theatrical season.

SEE IF THE CHILD'S TONGUE IS COATED.

Mothers! Don't hesitate! If Cross, Peckham, Cross' Little "Calf," formula Syrup of Figs.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the food, condensed waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of your little one's bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "Calf," laxative; they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hold no other kind with contempt.—Adv.

THE LAD IS OFF.

Merry Barleaguers Go the Limit Before Noddy Audience.

The lad was lifted last night when the Merry Barleaguers blew into town for a single performance. One was sufficient. The oldest folk were of barleaguers say it was the worst ever.

The boys, however, and the song and dances more suggestive than anything yet attempted.

The house was packed, likewise, it was noisy. Some of the more enthusiastic were heard abusing the barleaguers, especially during the singing of that classic, the "Brocolade Song."

For the past three years the barleaguers have been limited to about one season, whether by the rules or by the enforced this year has not been stated.

Satellite's Companion May Go Free.
UNIONTOWN, Sept. 19.—That Mrs. Anna Hart Buckles came to her death from barbitum poisoning, taken with suicidal intent, was the verdict of a coroner's jury at an inquest into the woman's death here today. W. A. Williams of Corry, who has been in jail since the woman was found dead September 2, was not mentioned, and he probably will be released.

THOMAS HELD FOR COURT.

The Crime at Rices Landing to be Fully Investigated by Court.

Walter Thomas, charged with murdering Mrs. Oliver Price near Rices Landing on September 12, was formally held for trial yesterday at Waynesburg by Judge Montgomery. While the judge did not think much real evidence had been produced against Thomas, he thought it best the matter should be fully inquired into by a higher court. Thomas himself is treating his present very lightly. When officers went to the Waynesburg jail to take him to the hearing they found him entertaining others with exhibitions of his skill in dancing.

"Clincher" Paint

We know a paint which holds to the wood like a driven nail. Seasoned lumber is porous. The pores are the empty sap-cells. White lead paint, which dries on the wood in the form of a solid, elastic film, fastens into these pores, and the whole coat of paint is actually riveted like armor-plate to the surface it decorates and protects.

Brass Beds that Are Guaranteed and Insured Not to Tarnish

The Pittsburgh-Hickson Company, of Butler, Pa., the world's largest exclusive metal bed manufacturers, desire to introduce their untarnishable brass beds into this community, and made us a special offer at introductory prices so much below regular that we could not refuse. They wanted every housewife to know about the new and wonderful life time lasting quality of their Hickson Process Guaranteed Lacquer used exclusively on their beds to prevent the brass from tarnishing and were willing to sacrifice regular profits to accomplish this. They wanted you to know that Hickson Process Guaranteed lacquer is proof against acids, wood alcohol, ammonia, salt solutions, moisture, perspiration from hands and any alkali cleansing preparation which quickly tarnishes ordinary brass beds.

READ THE MAKER'S GUARANTEE BOND

You can clean or wash these beds with any of the above cleansers and it will not harm the Hickson Lacquer in the slightest degree. As an evidence of good faith and absolute confidence on the part of the Pittsburgh-Hickson Company, each brass bed is guaranteed with a bona fide Surety Bond, given to the purchaser, which guarantees the brass against tarnish. This Bond is issued by the Southwestern Surety Insurance Company, and is backed not only by the Pittsburgh-Hickson Company, but by ourselves. Don't purchase a brass bed without demanding a Surety Bond issued by the Southwestern Surety Insurance Company and the Pittsburgh-Hickson Company, as no other is genuine.

FRIDAY EVENING, SEP. 19, 1913.

JUSTICE FOR THE RAILROADS.

The recent extension of the Fairport Post system and the increased weight limit have brought forth another protest from the railroads, which it seems bear most of the burden without any of the compensation.

The railroads have contended for some time that they are insufficiently paid for transporting the mails, especially since the rate was arbitrarily reduced 2% in 1907, thereby cutting down the revenue from this source $15,000,000 annually. The addition of the Fairport Post office business has transferred a large portion of the express business to the mail cars, thus greatly diminishing the income from this source without adding a penny from the Government.

Government officials should not be unjust and oppressive simply because they have the power to be and it seems a popular thing at the moment. History teaches such incidents far too removed from danger and prejudice, and the public man who hopes to leave a memory that will be his most enduring monument should try to govern with fairness and justice.

The railroads were the original commercial backbone of this country, but they have reformed through the gentle influence of Government supervision. These good influences should not become evil. The railroads have had their lesson.

Nor should it be forgotten that railroads were the greatest single factor in the wonderful development of this country. Empire builders they were and still remain. Reckless they have been, and should be; but posterity, pursued and persecuted, never. The Government and the people should be fair to all interests, be they great or small, which combine to make a mighty nation and happy race.

GOOD ROADS.

Great reforms spring from various causes, some of them of a very insignificant character. Good roads have become a slogan of Pennsylvania progress. Within the past few years large appropriations have been made by the state to further this good work and an amendment to the Constitution is now pending which provides that the state may issue $50,000,000 of bonds for this purpose.

The good roads movement, similarly enough, dates from the time of the perfection and practical application of the motor car. Before that time the farmer, who was the only person interested in good roads, did not get very far with the proposition. He had no communication from the urban classes and little from his rural neighbors. His knowledge of good roads was very limited. So rural township methods that the roads be kept in good condition were practically wasted. Good roads were an irrelevant dream.

But with the advent of the benzine wagon the good roads movement became capitalized with urban interest and influence. That influence was far-reaching and potent. It bought newspaper publicity where it could not persuade it; that publicity made public opinion which pressed upon statements; and, as it gathered in strength and enthusiasm, it created a real sense of the good roads movement which swept all opposition before it.

We all agree that good roads are a proper public improvement, and with-in reason the Good Roads movement should have the support of every good citizen whether he rides in an automobile or whether he walks. Automobiles are getting cheaper every year and there is reason to think that eventually they will become the universal method of conveyance.

While the marriage law seems to be a useless and extravagant ceremony by some of the foreigners who come to dwell among us temporarily and otherwise, the jealousies of the self-married couples seem to be particularly violent and at times most thirty. There is a passion, sometimes tender and sometimes fierce, but always a passion, and it is not confined to any class.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Conneltsville is getting ready for the campaign of 1914. It is running on the non-partisan ticket.

The short car supply situation needs new blood.

The criticism of The Weekly Courier's coke production data was based wholly upon the assumption that pig iron production for August was 13% less than the July production, but the final figures show that the decline was less than one per cent.

Perhaps the projected new steel mills in the South have made leaders Underwood protest against the tariff reductions in the metal schedule by the Senate. The Southern statesmen is getting an overdose of his own medicine.

Pharmacists and little consolation in the West Virginia coke situation. The auto bandit is becoming entirely too fashionable. The West Penn order to leave by the front of the car and enter by the rear is only a natural and proper means of transforming chaos into order.

It's a pity that the Conneltsville policemen cannot be put under civil service rules and regulations. Most nominees under the primary election law are minority candidates. There's a leak in City Hall, but it's only in the roof. The interior continues to sit tight.

The Conneltsville Young Men's Christian Association music class has an end of opportunities for a thorough course in singing. Conneltsville is surrounded by practical mining schools.

Wall street has been raised so often on the inside that it seems strange it should fear a raid from the outside. The impeachment proceedings against Governor Sulzer of New York are deliberate but none the less determined.

The 1914 directories are appearing, but the Tri-State telephone vintage remains unchanged.

Smithfield is furnishing the snake stories since Addison's snake medicine supply has been curtailed.

PERRYVOPOLIS.

PERRYVOPOLIS, Sept. 18.—The thirtieth annual convention of the Fayette County W. C. T. U. convened on Wednesday morning in the Methodist Episcopal Church of Perryopolis. There were not so many in attendance at the first session, owing to the weather, but the spirit and ardor of those who were present was not diminished. The convention was opened by the county president, Mrs. Kate Hinton, of Uniontown, presided, and conducted the morning devotionals. The appointment of the various committees was followed by notes of the Ladies' Day Institute, which were given temporarily by Mrs. H. E. DeWitt, of Uniontown, in the absence of Mrs. S. E. Downs of Uniontown, who was programmed for this subject. Mrs. DeWitt also conducted memorial services for the members who had died during the year. After the noon prayer the convention adjourned for dinner, which was served by the ladies at the church.

Afternoon session began at 1:30. Devotional exercises by Mrs. Mary L. Williams of Conneltsville. The welcome address was made by Mrs. Emma Blair of the local union, with response by Mrs. L. S. Michaels of Conneltsville. Reports of secretary and treasurer were given and Mrs. Hinton gave her message, which was far-reaching, telling of much work that was being done and much more which needed looking after. This talk was listened to with much interest.

In the evening Rev. C. L. McKee of Washington, Pa., gave his lecture on the subject, "Whiskey Under the Searchlight." Illustrated by the stereopticon. This was a most convincing temperance talk and was along scientific lines, giving facts and figures for all statements, and showing that whiskey is a poison. It was not only instructive but interesting, and was listened to by a full house. Special music was a feature of this session; song by school girls, and a trio by Mrs. J. B. Snyder, Mrs. R. E. Kanover and Mrs. J. A. Youngkin. Also a quartette by Mrs. B. S. Luce, Misses Ruth Luce, Ethel Youngkin and Mary Luce.

The Watermelon.

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "At Good Old Slawash."

The watermelon is the frozen blunder of agriculture. Ninety-five per cent of it is water. It grows and swells through the summer and becomes exceedingly great. Then it is plucked and, lo, only a shell remains.

However, the watermelon differs from other frozen financiers in one respect. It generally wears stripes.

The watermelon grows on a vine and in the hot, dry summer when corn is getting paralysis of the roots and is shrivelling up behind the ears it grows plump and vast and acquires a rich, red, juicy inside.

A carload of melons contains enough water to make one respectable rain-storm, although there may not have been any rain in the vicinity for the past three months.

Melons are served by all restaurants which are not too haughty, but eating a melon with a knife or fork or straw is as tame as dining off a chicken.

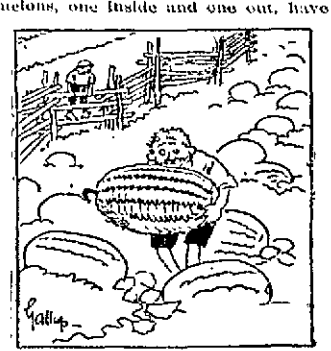

To enjoy this delicious fruit to the full, the eater should cut it lengthwise into a thick wedge-shaped slice and then, plunging eagerly into the red meat, he should eat until he has to come to the surface to breathe.

No one has really enjoyed a watermelon until he has had to shake the seeds out of his ears when he has finished.

Melons are immune to chicken bugs or boll weevils but suffer very severely from parasites, one of which will frequently devour half a dozen of the largest specimens. The watermelon parasite has two feet, usually large and weighs from 60 to 200 pounds.

Raising melons is an anxious job as the farmer has to spend most of the month of August out in the hot field shooting at parasites with a gun loaded with rock salt. Those American men who have never been a melon parasite and have not climbed over a barbed wire fence and outrun a load of salt and a feverish bulldog, while carrying two melons, one inside and one out, have missed much of the excitement of this life.

The easiest way to locate a melon on a patch is to follow a ducky on a country road. Conversely the easiest way to take a colored census in any given vicinity is to install a melon patch in an exposed position and begin counting.

"The watermelon parasite."

MARKED FEATURES OF FALL OPENING AT KOBACKER BROS

Styles and Colors as Portrayed in Life by Miss Brown.

NUMEROUS STRIKING EFFECTS

Some Notations on the Many Attractive Exhibits in the Various Departments of This Enterprising and Popular House.

Elaborate decoration in the rich fall colorings, a gorgeous display of fall and winter fashions, and a living model, Miss Brown of New York, to display the beauty and charm, and the many different styles in dress creations, were marked features of the second annual fall opening of Kobacker Bros. yesterday.

Kobacker Bros. were the first to introduce a fashion promenade by a living model in Connellsville, and one of the largest crowds in the history of the store assembled yesterday to witness the display of the latest and striking fashions for fall and winter. Mr. Kobacker had arranged for two models, but on account of the very celebration in Cleveland, only one could come to Connellsville.

It would be impossible to describe the many striking effects in evening and afternoon dresses, cloaks and millinery, worn during the promenade by Miss Brown. A handsome model of blue panne velvet, with a foundation of white charmeuse satin, and a bodice of white shadow lace over chiffon, with a giraffe effect, and trimming in the pastel shades, was greatly admired; as was a smart coat suit of mahogany chiffon broadcloth, with a drop yoke of black panne velvet and a black lynx collar. The skirt was slightly draped.

A handsome evening gown of navy charmeuse, draped with net of the same color, embroidered in pastel shades, and a wide giraffe of Nile green satin, was another handsome model. Worn with this was a black velvet hat in one of the latest models, trimmed with a feather band, and an exquisite set of yellow furs.

One of several striking coats displayed was of metallic velvet, with hood cape effect. Among the many magnificent suits, some were attractively tailored, some demit-tailored, while others were dressy models. The tendency for early wear favors the demit-tailored, touched up with fancy collars and cuffs, and the popular and effective vest. In suits suitable for afternoon wear the lines are simple, but the richness of materials makes the garment one of beauty.

The cutaway coat in many novel varieties, made with a variety of materials, of the popular vest, many of the jackets are cut away sharply in the front. Every new model and every fashionable wear was shown. The skirts are still narrow, with a full, and slashed either at the front, back or side. In the elaborate evening gowns and wraps shown, drapery was a feature. The colors were gorgeous and the lines artistic. On nearly all the gowns was a wide, with a narrow all-around effect. In fabrics, crepe-metee, broadcloth, charmeuse, woolen canton crepe, silk poplins and crepe-de-chine prevail. The combination of plain and broadcloth, charmeuse, silk with velvets, and plaid with plain materials, are very popular. In trimmings such as fur, extremely smart. M. H. Feinstein, assisted by Mrs. Jennie Kirt, is in charge of this department.

The millinery department, in charge of Mrs. Anna Reichstein, with its exquisite display, presented a scene of rare beauty. Owing to the growth in this department a number of improvements have been made, among these square tables are large and beautiful. Harmony is the keynote for fall and winter. The leading color, mahogany, was seen in many fine models, as was the black and white hat, which was extremely smart. Parisian models of Madame Louisa and Evelyn Varon creations, purchased by Mrs. Reichstein while in Paris, were exhibited in all the newest shades. The Klesene hat, turned up slightly in the crown, with a high trim, especially suitable for the more youthful face, was greatly admired, as was the modish Parisian hat of black plush, with the trimming drooping toward the front. This is an exclusive model.

The Goss hat, in the quaint little bonnet effect, with the popular chin strap, the square sailor with the handkerchief trim effect, the hat with the soft tam crown, the Stirling hat with the extremely high trim in the back, the small close fitting hat, and

TORTURED BY UGLY ITCHING ERUPTION

Doctor Recommended Resinol. Half of a 50c Jar Cured It.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 5, 1912. "My little daughter was taken with a very small spot on the back of her head. It grew larger and caused her more trouble. When she would scratch it, it would bleed and get very ugly looking, so I doctor'd it myself for about a year, and at last it broke out on both knees, and when she would go to bed she would scratch, and was so tortured and suffered so from the itching, that I took her to our doctor, who recommended Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment.

"I sent for samples and after the first application the itching and inflammation was improved, and I kept it up night and morning, and by the time the sample was gone she complained very little, so I got a fifty-cent jar, and before that was half gone the trouble had entirely disappeared." (Signed) Mrs. Maude Schmechel, 2737 Presbury Street.

Resinol is especially effective for itching, burning eruptions, pimples, dandruff, burns, and sores and piles. Sold by all druggists. For free sample write to Dept. 15-35, Resinol Chem. Co., Baltimore, Md.

many other models too numerous to describe, were displayed. In trimmings, feather bands, gowns, fancy ribbons, alpacas, flowers, huch fur, and patch features predominated. A rich display of furs, including black lynx, pointed fox, moleskin, and all the other popular furs in the newest designs, were artistically arranged.

Attention this department is the media underwear and infant department in charge of Miss Shaw. The display here was neat and attractive. Miss Elizabeth Grey, in charge of the waists, also had a neat display of colored and evening waists. The third floor, in charge of Julius Etkes, is devoted to carpets, curtains, draperies and other household furnishings goods.

In the dress goods department on the first floor, in charge of Alfred Kobacker, was displayed all the beautiful fabrics for fall and winter, the line including broadcloth, charmeuse, crepe-metee, crepe-de-chine, the fashionable broadcloth velvet, in Japanese colors, pretty silk poplins, fancy plaids and soft clinging silks in all the newest novelties and colors.

Displayed in a large case were many new and dainty effects in neckwear, including lace net and all-around chemises in white and cream, beautiful model collars made of net with ribbons, the fancy vestee, line embroidered lawn jabots, and many other pretty effects in neckwear. Neckwear and notions are in charge of Miss Edna Coughlin. In other cases were displayed all the newest novelties in jewelry, hosiery in all fresh colors, and the popular plaid. Artistically arranged in an alcove were handkerchiefs and handsome lace scarves, with some exquisite designs in fancy work.

The showing of the new fall foot-wear, in the rear of the store, embraced all the fashionable styles for men, women and children, from the walking boot to the shoe for dress occasions including the colonial evening slipper in all shades. This department is in charge of Joseph Glickman, the men's shoe department, in charge of Miss Barker, presented a neat and attractive appearance.

The boys' and men's clothing department, in charge of Jerome M. Kobacker, never showed so large a variety of styles for men and boys. All the latest fashions in novelties and plain fabrics were shown. A strong emphasis for this department was the men's furnishing department, in charge of Alex. Weiss. The display of hats, neckwear, shirts and other accessories to men's dress, was attractively arranged.

The large display window, and the smaller cases in front of the store attracted hundreds of persons during the day and evening. The window devoted exclusively to ladies' apparel was attractively decorated. It represented a fashion promenade. In the rear was a marble wall with tall portraits on which were portraits of famous women, while in the background was a scene representing a famous painting, the work of a Chinese artist. Trail of autumn leaves in their rich colors added much to the effectiveness of the scene.

The display included an exquisite gown of many elements, draped with black chiffon, with a giraffe of the same lace. Touches of cream lace on the bodice made a striking combination. Worn with this was a black velvet hat with two ostrich plumes and an immense red rose. Deserving of special mention were two elaborate evening cloaks. One was of velvet cloth, in the new mahogany shade, with a collar of rich fur, the other was of black panne velvet, with sleeves and yoke of broadcloth velvet, in the rich Japanese shades. Several notable models in millinery were also exhibited.

The lower window was devoted to an exclusive showing of men's and Don't Poison Baby.

FORTY YEARS AGO almost every mother thought her child must have PARAGORIC or landatum to make it sleep. These drugs will produce sleep, and a FEW DROPS TOO MANY will produce the SLEEP FROM WHICH THERE IS NO WAKING. Many are the children who have been killed or whose health has been ruined for life by paragoric, landatum and morphine, each of which is a narcotic product of opium. Druggists are prohibited from selling either of the narcotics named to children at all, or to anybody without labelling them "poison." The definition of "narcotic" is: "A medicine which relieves pain and produces sleep, but which is poisonous if used in excess, and which is dangerous to life if used in excess." The taste and smell of medicines containing opium are disguised, and sold under the names of "Drops," "Cordials," "Soothing Syrups," etc. You should not permit any medicine to be given to your children without you or your physician know of what it is composed. CASTORIA DOES NOT CONTAIN NARCOTICS, if it bears the signature of *Chas. boys' apparel, while the three smaller cases were devoted to a large showing of infants' wear, shoes, evening slippers, fancy hosiery and toilet articles. The interior of the store was attractively decorated. Vases of chrysanthemums, lattice effects covered with trailing autumn leaves and stately ferns, were used. The decorations were in charge of J. L. Decker, whose was by Kiefer's orchestra. All who visited the large store were given a cordial welcome by the management and employees.

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS.

Take "Pape's Diaphepsin" and in Five Minutes You'll Wonder What Became of Misery in Stomach.

Wonder what upset your stomach— which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in revolt, if you are uneasy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids and experience undigested food, mouth foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diaphepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women today know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diaphepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your blood itself, without reflection, if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diaphepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's really wonderful—its digesting food and settling things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please, for your sake, don't go on and on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.—Adv.

How to Cure Cholera Morbus. Many cases of this disease result actually before medicine can be obtained or a physician summoned. It is easily cured when the proper remedy is at hand. Mrs. Charles Stewart of Mt. Calvary, N. Y., writes: "When my husband had cholera morbus last summer he used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and it cured him promptly." Every family should keep this remedy at hand. It only costs a quarter. For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

KOBACKER'S Fall Style Opening

An Apology.

To all those who were unable to get close enough to see the Models, we tender our Apologies. The crowds were far beyond our expectations.

Yesterday the eyes of Fashionable Connellsville were centered on our presentations of Fall Fashions on the Living Model. They have most enthusiastically voiced their approval of this picturesque method of introducing the new Fall Styles. Thousands have attended each promenade—and all agree that Connellsville never saw such a gorgeous style presentation. And, after the promenade, the enthusiasm has been transferred to other parts of the store where hundreds of additional styles were shown to every one worn by the Model on promenade.

Facts in Nature

FOR centuries it has been known that Nature's most valuable health giving agents for the cure of disease are found in our American forests. Over forty years ago Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalid Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N.Y., used the powerful extracts as well as the liquid extracts of native medicinal plants, such as Illinoise and Queen's root, Golden Seal and Stone root, Cherry bark and Mandrake, for the cure of blood diseases. This prescription to put up in liquid form was called and has enjoyed a large sale for all these years in every drug store in the land. You can now obtain the powdered extract in sugar-coated tablet form of your medicine dealer, or send for one in one-cent postage stamps for trial box to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N.Y., and tablets will be mailed, postage prepaid.

Golden Medical Discovery

The "Golden Medical Discovery" makes rich, red blood, invigorates the stomach, liver and bowels and through these the whole system. It cures all ailments, blotches, boils, pimples and eruptions—result of bad blood—no eradicated by this alternative extract—as thousands have testified.

Send 10 one-cent stamps to pay cost of mailing only on a free copy of Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Advice, 1008 pages, clothbound ADDRESS DR. R. V. PIERCE, BUFFALO, N. Y.

MACHINERY AND TOOLS HAULED FOR GAS EXPERIMENT

Team & Joking Out Material for Scottdale and Smithton.

ARE ENCOUNTERING BAD ROADS

The Damage by the Burning of the Painter Stables, 1,500 Hats Lost. Their Lives. The Strawn Dinner Party and Some Surprise Dinner.

Speed to The Courier.

SCOTSDALE, Sept. 19.—The hauling of the machinery and tools for the testing for gas and oil of the field west of Scottdale was begun yesterday with three teams from William Ferguson's stables in charge of John Stauffer. Five teams were put on the work today and will make one trip out to the DeLarper tract in the neighborhood of Grandview, where the first test will be made. The derrick which was shipped on Saturday had not arrived but is looked for today. Samuel Baker, the driller from Washington, Pa., is on the ground with E. E. Dierkes, of Scottdale, who is making the test, and on the arrival of the derrick, the materials will be pushed out and a crew of about 10 men will be put to the work of erecting the steel structure. The new boiler also will be received here and hauled out.

The rough roads of East Huntingdon township, about which there has been so much complaint within the last few weeks, are proving hard for the teams taking the heavy materials used in the testing. Some of the roads are said to be almost impassable, and as bad weather now seems to be here, it looks much as if the citizens had completely trusted too long to the supervisors to do something for them and are in danger of being left for their negligence. There is to be a test also for gas and oil by the Peoples Company of Pittsburgh in the territory at Smithton, where the machinery is being hauled now for the beginning of early work. Thus both the upper and lower ends of the field are to be tested.

TO CONNELLSVILLE.

"Within the Law" which was given at the Scottdale Theatre last evening and gone to the Johnson Theatre Connelville tonight, was one of the best plays ever given here, and was in the hands of a superbly capable company. A good audience was present, and this was the first play of the season at this house.

SUNDAY EXCURSION TO OAK PARK, W. VA.

The Baltimore & Ohio will run their last excursion of the season to Oak Park next Sunday, September 22. Tickets will be sold for Special Through Train leaving Mount Pleasant at 7:25 A. M.; Elverson, 7:35 A. M.; Broad Ford, 7:50 A. M.; Connelville, 8 A. M.; and Dunbar, 8:12 A. M., at the very low fare of $1.00. Round Trip—Adv.

AT YOUNGWOOD.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Porter were visiting the latter's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cook at Youngwood.

PAINTER BURNS HAT.

When the Painter stables burned on Tuesday morning causing a large loss of property, the stables being 100x55 feet in dimensions, the stock was destroyed, but $150 worth of copper wire, 100 bushels of oats, a large quantity of hay and harness, were consumed. About 1,500 hats which were made there in the upper corner of the barn in the hay were cremated.

AT DINNER PARTY.

Mrs. Frances M. Strawn was at dinner at Mrs. M. E. Strawn's, who entertained at a birthday surprise dinner for her husband. In the afternoon the ladies visited Mrs. Sarah H. Cochran's and were shown the beauties of St. James Park. In the party were Mrs. H. A. Baum, Mrs. M. E. Porter, Mrs. Flora Snyder of Dawson, Mrs. Annie Young of Alliance, O., Miss Anderson of Homewood and Miss Strawn.

AT JACOBS CREEK.

Rev. A. W. Davies, the pastor, will preach a special sermon on "The Judgment," at the Jacobs Creek Methodist Episcopal Church on Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A particular feature will be the singing of the Gospel quartet.

SURPRISE PARTY.

A surprise party was given in honor of the 54th birthday anniversary of W. F. Stoner, the party assembling at his home while he was attending a meeting of the official board of the United Brethren Church. There were about 60 members of the Dorcas Bible Class of the United Brethren Sunday School of which Mr. Stoner is teacher, present. A dainty lunch was provided by the class. Mr. Stoner was presented with a fine Sheffield Reflector Bible. A notable feature was that the class is the largest that it has been in the two years that Mr. Stoner has been the teacher.

MOUNT PLEASANT.

MOUNT PLEASANT, Sept. 19.—For the first time in the history of the Mount Pleasant High School a girl is to be editor of their paper, the Spectator. She is Miss Helen Gort, a senior. A few changes will be made in the paper this year and it promises to be better than ever. Miss Gort expects to have her magazine out on time and with this in view she called a meeting of her editors, who are Charles Clausner, assistant editor; Clifford Fox, business manager; Chester Palmer and James Easton, assistants; Margaret Myers, editor of wit and humor; Violet Crosby, exchange editor; John Zochbauer, literary editor; and Clifford Sheppard, athletic editor. Last evening an arrangement to get her paper started.

KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES DISAPPEAR

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of Croxone.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism, have disagreeable, annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many ills that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon.

It is a positive fact that Croxone promptly overcomes such diseases. It seeks right in and cleans out the stopped up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate lining of the bladder.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long standing cases. You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it without results. An original package costs but a trifle, and your druggist is authorized to return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time—Adv.

Very morning. The annual conference will be held at New Brighton hotel, beginning October 1. The delegates from here are Miss Alfreda Luckman, reserve, George Tregler.

A very enjoyable party was held at "Sand Top," the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shaffer, by Miss Gladys Myers and Eva Shupe, assisted by Edmund Lindon and Lloyd Shaffer. Fifty were present and a very nice lunch was served. The persons from town who attended were Pearl McLain, Pearl Reese, Mary Blaine, Eva Shupe, Eva Greene, Toni Blaine, Grace Lohr, Ruth Myers, Hazel Beckner, Edward McClain, George Galley, John Foust, Ernest Borg, Charles Brooks, Warren Backler, Earl Fox, Wayne Barnhart, Roy Nunn, Remaker, William Hoke and Hyatt Remaker.

"WITHIN THE LAW" TONIGHT.

Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont of New York takes a keen interest in the question of minimum wage for women, and in fact in many other phases of present day economics where women are concerned. Mrs. Belmont has founded many clubs for working women, conducts a lunch-room where decent food is served cheaply for the benefit of women who work and interests herself in a thousand ways, wherever she can lend a hand toward helping those of her own sex who are less fortunate than she. It was practically because of her interest in department store conditions that she recently visited the play "Within the Law," when that striking melodrama of up to date happenings in New York life was having its unprecedented successful run at the Ellinger Theatre. Mrs. Belmont occupied a box and watched the vicissitudes of fortune that attend "Mar Turner," the shop-girl heroine of the drama, with keenest interest. Afterward the great social leader and mother of the Duchess of Marlborough wrote of it as follows to the author: "I was among the first to see your wonderful play and ever since I have been urging all my friends to go to see it." (Signed) Alice E. Belmont.

"Within the Law" will be at the Soisson Theatre tonight.

Friends Expected Here to Me. "I sincerely believe my life was saved in the Fall of 1910 by using Chamberlain's Cough, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. Agnes Booth Tompkins, N. Y. "I was taken with diarrhoea followed by an attack of acute indigestion. Power of the pen fails to portray the agonies I endured. My friends expected me to die and I had been unable to get better for so long a time. This remedy went directly to the seat of the trouble and cured me in a few hours' time." THE MAIDS OF PARADISE

Robert W. Chambers
Author of "Cardigan," "The Conspirators," "Maids of Arms," etc.

Now among the thicket of hop-vines, long lines of black arose; there was a flash, a bell of smoke, another flash—then the metallic rattle of bullets on steel breast-plates. Entire ranks of cuirassiers went down in the smoke of the Prussian rifles, the sinister crash and crash of falling armor filled the air. And, above the infernal fracas, rose the heavy sheaving of the doomed riders.

Into the deep, narrow street wheeled the horsemen, choking road and sidewalk with their galloping squadrons, a solid column of impetuous horsemen, a flaming torrent of armored men—and then! Crash! the first squadron dashed headlong against the barricade of wagons and went down.

Two men tore the squadron behind, unable to stop their maddened horses, and into their thundered squadrons, after squadrons, unconscious of the dead wall ahead.

Poised behind the upper and lower windows of the houses, the Prussians shot into them, so close that the flames from the rifles set the jackets of the cuirassiers on fire. Then a terrible butchery of men and horses began; the fusillade became so violent and the scene so sickening that a Prussian lieutenant went crazy in the house opposite, and flung himself from the window into the mass of writhing horsemen.

In front of the barricade a huge yellow roan in his horse and turned, white-gloved hand raised, red sparks leaping.

"Halt! Halt!" he shouted. "Stop the horses!" And a trumpet, disengaging himself from the frantic chaos, set his long silver trumpet to his lips and blew the "Halt!" Then into this awful struggle galloped the two squadrons of the lancers. For a moment the street swam under their fluttering red-and-white lance-pennons, then a volley swept them—another—another—and down they went.

The street was still crowded with entrapped cuirassiers, huddled in groups or rising up and down the walls mechanically seeking shelter. A few of them, dismounted, were vainly attempting to drag a heavy car away from the barricade; the Prussians shot them, one at a time, but others came to help, and a few lancers, and at length they managed to drag a hay-wagon aside, giving a narrow passage to the open country beyond. Instantly the Prussian infantry swarmed out of the houses and into the street, shouting, "Prisoners!" pushing, retreating and dragging the exhausted cuirassiers from their saddles. But contact with the enemy, hand to hand, seemed to revive the fury of the armored riders. The debris of the regiments closed up, long, straight sabers glittered, trembling horses plunged forward, broke into a stiff gallop, and passed through the infantry, through the rent in the barricade, and staggered away across the fields, buried in the smoke of a thousand rifles.

So rode the "Cuirassiers of Morabronn," the flower of an empire's cavalry, the elect of France. So rode the gentlemen of the Sixth Lancers to shiver their slender spurs against stone walls—for the honor of France.

CHAPTER VI.

The Game Begins.

The room in the turret was now swimming in smoke and fire dust; I could scarcely see the gray figure of the Countess through the powder-mist which drifted in through shutters and loopholes, dimming the fading day-light.

And now wagon-loads of French wounded began to pass jolting over crushed helmets, rifles, cuirasses, and the carcasses of dead horses.

A Horrible Butchery of Men and Horses Began.

A covey of Uhlans entered the shambling, picking their way across the wreckage of the battle, a slim, wiry, fastidious company, daintily as spurred gamecocks, with their helmets cords swinging like wattles, and their schapkas tilted rakishly.

Then the sad cortege of prisoners formed in the smoke, the wounded leading on their silent comrades, bandaged heads hanging, the others erect, defiant, supporting the crippled or standing with arms folded and helmeted heads held high.

And at last they started, between two files of mounted Uhlans—Tartars, fine infantrymen, cuirassiers, lancers, and, towering head and shoulders above the others, the superb cuirassiers.

Under the window soldiers began shooting the crippled horses; the heavy flash and bang of rifles set the Countess trembling again.

Until the firing ceased she stood as though stupefied, scarcely breathing, her splendid hair glistening like molten copper in the red torches' glare.

Soldiers began to come and go in the room; some carried off chairs for officers below, some took the pillows from the bed, one bore away a desk on his broad shoulders.

The Countess never moved or spoke. The evening had grown chilly; I was cold to my knees.

A soldier offered to build me a fire in the great stone fireplace behind me, and when I assented he calmly smashed a chair to kindling-wood, wrenched off the heavy posts of the bed, and started a fire which lit up the wrecked room with its crimson glare.

The Countess rose and looked around. The soldier pushed my long chair to the blaze, tore down the canopy over the bed and flung it over me, stolidly ignoring my protests. Then he clumped out with his muddy boots and shut the door behind him.

For a long while I lay there, full in the heat of the fire, half-dozing, then sleeping, then suddenly alert, only to look about me to see the Countess with eyes closed, motionless in her arm-chair, only to hear the muffled thud of the guns in the dark.

A few moments later a clock in the hallway struck nine. At this same instant a deafening cannon-shot echoed the clamor of the clock. It was the last shot of the battle. And when the dull reverberations had died away Alsace was a lost province. Mahon's army was in full retreat, leaving on the three battle-fields of Worth, Roischausen, and Froeschweiler sixteen thousand dead, wounded, and missing soldiers of France.

About seven o'clock that morning a gaunt, leather-faced Prussian officer, immaculate in his number uniform, entered the room without knocking.

"Monsieur, I have the honor to hand you a copy of regulations. I am the provost marshal; all complaints should be brought to me. A list of the inhabitants of Morabronn will be made to-day. You will have the goodness to declare yourself—and you also, madame. (There being other buildings better fitted, no soldiers will be quartered in this house.)"

The officer evidently mistook me for the owner of the house and not a prisoner. A blanket hid my hussar trousers and boots; he could only see my ragged shirt.

"And now, madame," he continued, "as monsieur appears to need the services of a physician, I shall send him a French doctor, brought in this morning from the Chateau de la Trappe."

He turned his grim, indelible face to the Countess and bowed, then he bowed to me, swung squarely on his heel, and walked to the door.

"Admit the French doctor," he said to the soldier on guard, and marched out, his curved saber banging behind his spurred heels.

"It must be Dr. Delmont!" I said, looking at the Countess as there came a low knock at the door.

She rose instinctively from her chair; somebody entered the room behind me and I turned, calling out, "Welcome, doctor!"

"Thank you," replied the calm voice of John Buckhurst at my elbow.

The Countess shrank aside as Buckhurst coolly passed before her, turned his slim back to the entrance of the door, and fixed his eyes on me—those pale, slow eyes, questioning as death.

"My friend," he observed in English, "do you think you will know me again when you have finished your scrutiny?"

The Countess, face averted, passed behind my chair.

"Wait," said Buckhurst; and turning directly to me, he added: "You were mistaken for a hussar at La Trappe; you were mistaken here for a hussar as long as the squad holding this house remained in Morabronn. A few moments ago the provost mistook you for a hussar." He looked across at the Countess, who already stood with her hand on the door-knob.

"If you disturb me," he said, "I have only to tell the provost the truth. Members of Imperial Police caught without proper uniform inside German lines are shot, sans merci."

The Countess stood perfectly still a moment, then came straight to me.

"Madame," said Buckhurst, in his peculiarly soft and persuasive voice, "I am not here to betray this gentleman; I am not here even to justify myself. I came here to make reparation, to ask your forgiveness, madame, for the wrong I have done you, and to deliver myself, if necessary, into the hands of the proper French authorities in expiation of my misdeeds."

"I do not exactly understand," said I. "How can you expiate a crime here?"

"I can at least make reparation," he said, turning the paper box over and over between his fat fingers.

"Have you brought me the diamonds which belong to the state?" I inquired, amused.

"Yes," he said, and to my astonishment he drew a small leather pouch from his pocket and laid it on my blanket-covered knees. "How many diamonds were there?" he asked.

COLD WINTER COMING; SO SAY THE SQUIRRELS

Zoo Keeper Gets the Straight Tip and Passes It to the Public.

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.
It's going to be a hard winter. The cold of the last few mornings is only a prelude to what we are going to get, and we are going to get it soon. This is no idle talk of the weather bureau or penmanship of the almanac. It is hard, cold facts.

Bill Snyder, head keeper of the memories in Central Park, is authority for the statement. The squirrels told him so. Bill looks always to the gray squirrels for his forecasting of the weather.

The gray squirrels, he says, have begun to build their nests, and this means the near approach of cold weather. The grays began their nest-building four weeks ahead of schedule time, compared with last year.—From a New York News Paper.

Anent the Above—

Long before the weather turns downright cold, there will be plenty of warm clothing for men, women and children; and snug bedding; and all the other things for winter comfort, no matter how deep the mercury sinks into its glass tube.

Some things we lacked last winter will be in plain view this year. We know our town and our patrons better and full provision is planned for the growing business.

For the present—and straight through the season—many assortments are larger and finer, and there is much that is exclusive to our Connecticut and Uniontown clientele.

An Opening Exposition of the

New Fall Silks

Next Tuesday to Friday
Inclusive

WE are planning an exhibit that will surpass, in rich beauty and variety, all former displays of this sort.

The last word has been said about silks, and this store which has held undisputed leadership for years, can best interpret the new and accepted weaves.

The Dry Goods Store is being put in order to show these lovely textures—the exclusive, direct importations and the distinctive, sturdy domestic weaves. Don't miss it—it is an event extraordinary.

Critical Women

Are invited to inspect some handsome

FROCKS, DRESSES and GOWNS

Not commonly seen in Connellsville stores. The collection contains more models than we've ever had before, and they range from likeable street costume to duplicates of sophisticated French costumes at notably modest prices.

Second Floor.

A Thumb Nail Sketch of Smart Suits for Women.

Various outaway styles, from the simplest turned corners as we first knew it, to the decidedly short-front outaway, gracefully sloping towards the back.
Many with vests—and vest effect—of beautiful novelty materials (velvet, silk, lace and other textures) plain or embellished with oriental colorings; and buttons, braids, silks and velvets everywhere, in the choicest arrangements they have yet known. Draped skirts.

Of plain color and two toned materials, in soft autumn colors, navy and black.

Broches, serges, chevrons, diagonals, broadcloths, boucle, granites, Canton crepe, matlasse, English wool rep and numerous novelty weaves. Prices start at $15.00 for an extra value, and mount gradually to $85.00.

Luxurious RUGS—The Finest American Grades

Pure Worsted French Wiltons $55.00
Oriental Patterned Hartford Saxony $50.00
Durable, Silky, Bundhar Wiltons $40.00
9x12 Feet and Other Sizes in Stock.

The latest priced, most attractive, most comprehensive and best selected stock of the finer grade rugs in this city—and within miles of it. There are a great many designs and colorings not obtainable at other stores here—and two distinct weaves—the Hartford Saxony and the Bundhar Wilton, exclusive to Wright-Metzler Company in Connellsville.

Here also you will find the best collection of moderate priced rugs—Brussels, Italy, Brussels, Axminster and Wilton at $14.00, $15.00, $19.50, $25.00, $27.50 and $37.50 for 9x12 size—in new designs and colorings, reliable and vouched for.

ORIENTAL TONED HARTFORD SAXONY RUGS

Are exact duplicates—in color, design, weave and texture of antique, old-world hand work. Their wearing quality and their beauty at them for private homes and public places. In the forty some years that Hartford Saxony rugs have been on the market, they've been noted institutions, hotels, clubs, banks and mansions throughout America.
The designs are true copies of Harlequin, Bazar, Cashmere, Yarns, Kermanshah, Herat, Persians, Gorumans, Sarabends, Afghans, Kazaks and other rare Eastern rugs. Sizes in stock range from 27x36 inches to 11x15 feet; and special sizes can be had in a month's time.

DURABLE AS IRON—BUNDHAR WILTONS

—and as rich-looking and delicate as rugs for fine homes can be.
There's a marvelous softness and high character to the colorings, a dye fastness, a reasonableness of price, and above all, a durability that sets Bundhar Wiltons apart.

Deep reds or blues, rose, ivory, ebony, sage, terra cotta, tan, olive and other shades in small, neat patterns by modern designers.
Unlike the deep pile of the Hartford Saxony rugs, Bundhar Wiltons are the direct opposite. Made of special yarn, soft, yet resilient, the pile instantly springs back—impossible to crush down—when walked over.

The Clothing Store Greet the Gentlemen of Connellsville and Has Something of Importance to Say

BETWEEN now and October 1st every man hereabouts who has any thought for comfort and his appearance will begin to rustle for new Fall Clothing.

Some good clothing store—one that has given and now gives the best value and fullest measure of service for every dollar expended—is going to get a big share of that new business.

This clothing store has been sending out first-class men's wear for a matter of ten years now and taking on new customers regularly—all on the merits of the clothing that has proven its worth, and right to be termed "Clothing of the highest Style-type."

—and it's not costing one cent more than uncertain garments at irresponsible stores.

We are ready now for any kind of a rush for suits, overcoats, trousers, hats and caps for men, and the important thing we have to say is

That by agreement with the manufacturers who make this clothing our way, we will from now on give larger, sounder and better value in Wright-Metzler Clothing than we thought was possible previously; and noticeably better clothing than be had elsewhere—price for price—now or at any time.

This a serious and sweeping statement made advisedly. We'll never have to back-pedal it because we're paying enough for our clothes—and not saddling you with it—to get those little niceties of finish, thorough tailoring, strong, fashionable materials and the right patterns you'd expect to pay more for. Suits $10 to $40.

A New Light on Gas Mantle Service and Efficiency

"How long," we asked a woman recently, "will your gas mantles remain whole and give good light?" "Well," she replied, "if I can use a mantle two weeks I think it is doing well. Some go to pieces in a few days time, and I've had others that lasted fully two months."

LINDSAY GAS MANTLES AT 25c EACH—IN-VERTED OR UPRIGHT STYLE—ARE GUARAN-TEED FOR NINETY DAYS' SERVICE.

At the time of purchase the date is marked on the box containing the mantle, and for ninety days we are responsible for its efficiency. If the mantle becomes useless within the three months, we will replace it with a new one.

NOTE:—As a means of identification the dated box and the supporting frame or ring must be returned to us when exchanging damaged mantles for new ones.
